FOREWORD

Since so many events which have added to the development of our nation have taken place during the past year, what theme could be more appropriate for this annual than progress and achievement?

As we look back over the year that has passed, we find that a great deal of this progress has been made in our own state.

About one hundred and twenty-five miles from us, spanning the San Francisco Bay stand two huge structures, the bay bridges. The completion of these two gigantic engineering masterpieces will be remembered as the two outstanding events of the past year.

But this isn't the only great achievement that has been made. The progress made in communication by those giant birds, the clipper ships, is not soon to be forgotten. Then, too, there was the completion of Boulder Dam and many other events that were perhaps smaller, but which also added to the advancement of our nation and the world.

We wish to call your attention particularly to the two beautiful illustrations drawn by the art editors for this annual.

The first illustration shows the graduate visualizing the accomplishments of the present and dreaming of the future.

The second illustration shows him as an older man as he sits thinking pleasant thoughts of the past and his school days.

To the memory of our beloved classmate, June Miller, whose tragic death left a vacancy in our class that can never be filled and whose loving ways and sunny smile made the time that she was with us seem more pleasant, we dedicate this annual.

The Talk of Today

I live on a hill overlooking the sea,
And although I know this is the place for me,
It gets lonely sometimes.

Out of my little bed I creep,
I steal through the house on tiptoeing feet,
Cautiously, for there are others asleep.

I slip out into the night
Where I know there's no one in sight
And marvel at the solitude that comes with the night.

When the moon is shining far out on the bay,
I can see most plainly
The talk of today,
The Golden Gate Bridge.

El Eco Manager	Pershing Wyatt

Later Bill Wyatt was elected vice president as the former vice president, Jack Griggs, left school on account of illness. Flora Mancebo was chosen to take June Miller's place as El Eco Editor.

Although it was late when the yell leader, Clifford Kaufield, was elected, he did much to arouse the school spirit and pep up the teams. Dances were given by the student body at various times throughout the year, and two plays were given during the evening to help raise funds for the El Eco.

The Carnival was a greater success than it was in previous years and helped a great deal in financing this annual.

Senior Class Report

At the first senior class meeting held in the fall, the following officers were elected for the year 1936-37:

President	Frank Schuler
Vice President	Pershing Wyatt
Secretary	Sibyl Hunter
Treasurer	Helen Paillex
Class Reporter	Juanita Shinn

Mr. Brown and Miss Creason were chosen as class advisers.

Although Eulogio Nevarez does not have his picture in this El Eco, he is a member of the graduating class.

The members of the class, girls as well as boys, have been very active in athletics all through their high school years.

Due to the death of our classmate, June Miller, who had a leading role in the senior play, "Big Hearted Herbert", which was to be given on February 11, no senior play was given this year.

This year's senior class did a great deal to help make the carnival a success, giving two stunts instead of the usual one. They sponsored the dance and the spinning wheel.

The Senior Ball was given on May 21, and the decoration theme was a garden in May. The "All Star Orchestra" from Marysville was engaged to play for the dancing.

After completing four successful years of high school, this graduating class of 1937 looks to the future for even brighter and happier years.

Junior Class

The junior class was quite active this year. All the activities were a success due to the co-operation of practically every student in the class.

The first activity was the Junior Prom. The dance was given in the high school gym. The decoration theme, which was attractively carried out, was that of a yacht. The orchestra was The All Stars from Marysville. This orchestra was new here, and it attracted a large crowd, which made the dance a total success.

The next event was the concessions which we sponsored in the school's annual carnival. They were boxing and wrestling, directed by Mr. Lee and Mr. Adams, and the boys' ring work and the girls' tumbling, directed by Mr. Lee and Miss Anderson. After the carnival during the dance given by the senior class we also had a raffle. The prizes were three dollars and two dollars.

Sophomore Class

The freshmen were initiated by the sophomore class on September 25, 1936, by singing, playing instruments, and dancing. After the initiation a dance was given in the gym with music by Captain Carter and his Mid-Shipmen.

Mr. Loeffler and Miss Hohl were selected for our class advisers. The officers elected by the class are as follows:

Kenneth Bayless	President
James Ragsdale	Vice President
Dorene Neville	Secretary
Verna Wyatt	Treasurer
Robert Mayes	Reporter

A play entitled "Elmer", was given by the Sophomores at the Sophomore Hop on March 12, 1937. The leading part of "Elmer", was taken by James Ragsdale. After the play a dance was given in the gymnasium. The theme of spring and Easter was carried out by rabbits and balloons.

Freshman Class

On September 25 the freshmen were welcomed into high school by the sophomores at the Freshman Reception.

The freshman class being especially large this year, it was necessary to hold the Freshman Return Dance in the gym. It was held on October 16. The gym was decorated to represent the Big Game with goal posts at either end and red, white, blue, and gold streamers hanging from them. The walls were trimmed with paper pennants and footballs.

The freshmen had the toss-a-dart booth and penny throw at the carnival. Both concessions netted a profit.

Band

Once more the band has completed a very successful year. The membership numbers fifty-two with the best balance in instrumentation since the band was organized.

The band contest in Davis the latter part of last year was quite an inspiration for students that like to play in band competition. Our band won first place in Class D and E averaging more points in playing ability than any band in competition in any class.

Engagements for the present year were many and are thus listed: The basketball games, rallies, Holy Ghost Celebration, and Home Coming. One of the important factors that made many of these engagements successful was the fact that the band was uniformed. This was made possible by the band members themselves and the school. Caps were purchased with band funds by the school and the students bought the remainder of the ensemble.

Now that the band has really established itself, it is hoped that in another year the band will be the best and largest band in the history of the school.

Orchestra

The orchestra membership is always somewhat selected to keep balance as good as possible. Strings must have had experience in some other organization before being allowed to register for orchestra. Brass and woodwind players are selected from the band by the instructor. The enrolled orchestra for the year numbered forty.

Many programs were furnished for school engagements. Selected players played numbers for community plays. Instrumental solos were an added feature of many programs. The students capable of doing this function were George Walker, saxophone; Bob Coe, clarinet; Kenneth Bayless, trombone, and Jane Grey on the piano. Other work of these soloists was to play at the Woman's Club on two occasions.

An added instrument of the orchestra this year was the cello played by Elsie Reed, who studied the instrument in grammar school and has displayed talent for the time she has studied it.

The orchestra has a promising future with many string players coming up from the elementary schools, always a strong encouragement for any string section of any school orchestra.

Debating Team

As this goes to press, there have not been any debates but we have one scheduled with Grass Valley on May 28. The subject will be Resolved: That Electrical Utilities Should Be Governmentally Owned and Operated.

The debators will be John Markell, Clifford Kaufeld, and George Wallace.

Melba Maloney, who was in the picture, withdrew from school because of poor health.

This was an extremely bad year because we could not get debates. Mr. Williams, our coach, has tried very hard to get us debates. In view of this fact, we wish to thank him for trying so hard and for his excellent supervision.

Hi Times Staff

As has been the custom in recent years, the "Hi Times" staff this year consisted of the members of the English IV class. The material was written by the English Class under Mrs. Leavell's instruction and mimeographed by the office practice class under the supervision of Miss Creason.

The paper was issued every two weeks and was sold for three cents a copy. The staff also subscribed to the Roto-Review, a roto gravure section picturing school activities throughout the world. This monthly paper was included in every other issue of the "Hi Times" without extra charge.

On the whole, the "Hi Times" has been a successful and accurate picture of L. U. H. S. activities. The money made through the sales has aided in the publication of this annual.

Spanish Club

The success that the Spanish Club has had this year has been attributed to the co-operation of the members and our helpful teacher, Miss Somerville. She has given us many interesting talks of her experiences in Mexico. She has helped us to get a well organized orchestra in which all the members have taken part by either singing or playing some of Mexico's most loved songs. We have devoted much of our time in learning Mexico's customs, and now we have a much better picture of Mexico.

The Spanish Club was very successful with the cafe, La Cucaracha, which was part of the carnival's attraction. Luscious food was served. Also exhilarating drinks were served at the cocktail bar.

We have done our utmost to make this year's club a worthy one. Now, let us hope that next year we may all get together and climb a little higher than we have this year.

The Club officers for the year 1936-37 are as follows:

President	Bob Coe
Vice President	Edward Kadel
Secretary	Flora Mancebo
Treasurer	Herbert Obexer
Reporter	Loretta Olivas

First Row: Clark, J. Howcroft, Beemer, Mayes, R. Kaifka, Ragsdale

Latin Club

This year the Latin Club was organized under a new supervisor, Miss Gertrude E. Somerville. The Latin Club is made up of all Latin one and two students.

The Latin two class initiated the Latin one class at a party on October 9, 1936. On April 15, 1937, another party was given.

For the carnival the Latin Club had a Coney Island hot dog stand, and sold pop, ice cream, and hot dogs.

The officers for the year are as follows:

President	Kenneth Bayless
Vice President	Gladys Welch
Secretary-Treasurer	Dorene Neville
Reporter	Robert Mayes

Girls' Hi-Y Club

The most important Hi Y event of the year was the dance given for the benefit of charity on December 12, 1936. A huge stocking filled with Christmas goodies was raffled at the time also. The proceeds of the dance were distributed to the needy of Lincoln.

On March 13 and 14 six Hi Y Girls attended the Older Girls' Conference at Richardson Springs. The girls were assigned to cabins for the week-end, and they enjoyed all the other things Richardson Springs has to offer. Those who went were Frieda Molinario, Juanita Shinn, Dorene Neville, Jane Grey, Helen Stevens, and Nadine Vogt. Dorene's mother accompanied them, furnishing the transportation.

Methods of making money throughout the year were by selling flowers at the Junior Prom and at the carnival. A dance with a floor show was given in April also, but as the weather conditions were bad, there wasn't much of a profit.

The officers of the club are as follows:

President	Frieda Molinario
Vice President	Juanita Shinn
Secretary	Dorene Neville
Treasurer	Kathryn Shane
Advisers	Miss Anderson and Miss Hohl

First Row: Mayes, Coe, Sandstad, Haenny, Miller, Schuler, Hellewell, Dawson, R. Kaffka

 Fourth Row: P. Wyatt, Ferrero, E. Brown

Mask and Dagger Society

Since the pictures were taken for the annual, several members dropped out of the Dramatics Club. The vacancies were filled by the following new members: Mereda Best, Jessie Fae Windes, Roberta Fowler, George Wallace, Clyde Dunlap, and Marie Wiswell.

Plays given this school term have been very successful.

A senior play was selected entitled "Big Hearted Herbert". The following cast was chosen: Earl Brown, June Miller, Harry Ferrero, Zula Dougherty, Pershing Wyatt, Sibyl Hunter, Bill Dawson, Juanta Shinn, Clyde Dunlap, Flora Mancebo, Frieda Molinaro, and John Haenny. Rehearsals were in progress when the accident occurred which took Jane's life. No one wished to continue with the play, so it was dropped, and no senior play was given.

An outstanding dramatic event was the sophomore play given the night of the Sophomore Hop, March 12, 1937. The title of the play was "Elmer". The cast was as follows:

Elmer Collier	James Ragsdale
Susan Collier	Jessie Fae Windes
Jeanie Collier	Kathryn Shane

Janie Collier, her twin Nadene Vogt
 Miss Luisa Pinney, a dressmaker Beverly Lavendahl
 Mrs. Collier Gladys Welch
 Fannie Bell, a colored girl Dorene Neville
 Hubert Brown Kenneth Bayless

The action takes place in the sitting room of the Collier house. Susan who has had to wear Jeanie's and Janie's cast-off clothes all her life, has just received a new coat. It looks as if Janie is going to get to wear it before Susan gets a chance, but Elmer steps in just in time and hides the coat. Everyone thinks it has been stolen and hilarious confusion results.

The Mask and Dagger Society (commonly known as the Dramatics Club) presented a one-act comedy entitled "Not Quite Such A Goose" during the evening of the carnival. The cast was as follows:

Mrs. Bell, a happy mother Zula Dougherty
 Albert Bell, her son Earl Brown
 Sylvia Bell, her daughter Flora Mancebo
 Hazel Henderson, Sylvia's friend Juanita Shinn
 Philip Flick, Sylvia's boy friend Harry Ferrero

Albert is a "reg'lar" fellow, pitches a mean out-curve, and thinks girls are silly. When sister's friend comes to visit, Albert does an about face. She even puts a rose in his buttonhole.

Other plays were put on before the student body. The Mask and Dagger Society and the dramatics class presented two plays, "The Light In The Pumpkin" and "Old Walnut", in the evening before dances to raise funds for the El Eco. One of the plays put on by the dramatics class, "Francis and Frances" was presented at the Woman's Club and also at a P.-T. A. meeting.

— ROMANCE —

Darkness hung over Naples,
 Whining guitar strings
 Cut through the stilled night.

Evelyn Short, 39

The Old Pine Tree

Tall grows the stately old pine
With its brawny branches spreading wide.
It lives a life that is pure and strong
And leans with the wind when called upon.

It is a symbol of beauty and grace.
Its boughs are covered with flimsy lace.
It looks so lonely just standing there.
It makes one stop to think and stare.

Zula Dougherty, '37

The Mountain

Alone stands the snow-capped mountain,
Guarding the land from an unseen foe.
It stands like a sentinel, never changing its place.
Its trees are like soldiers waiting to go.

In its bosom it shelters its many friends.
Its summit catches the slightest breeze.
It reveals no secret of its purpose there.
Its peak is conquered by none with ease.

"A" Team

The Lincoln A and B teams ended the 1936-37 basketball season far down the league standings but managed to give their opponents some stiff battles.

The A team was headed by Captain Bill Wyatt, who was the highest scorer on the team. Pershing Wyatt, Edward Kadel, Chuck Towle, and George Wallace comprised the starting lineup. The latter two will be back next year. The A team won two of its league games and lost eight.

The B team could not get started until the last few games of the season. Although the B's won only two and lost eight of their league games, they ended their season with four straight wins, two of these being league games. Their biggest victory of the season was when they defeated the Grant B's who had beaten Placer earlier in the season. Earl Brown and Willie Gamboa were the B team's high scorers.

Willie Gamboa also starred for the C team, which won two and lost four of its league games.

"B" Team

LINCOLN AT PLACER, DECEMBER 16

The Lincoln teams encountered too much opposition when they met the championship Placer teams. The A team emerged from the game with a 33 to 10 defeat, in a very wild contest.

The Placer B's were altogether too fast for our boys and won easily by a score of 43 to 13.

ROSEVILLE AT LINCOLN, JANUARY 8

The Lincoln A's lost a heart-breaking overtime contest on the local court to the Roseville squad. Some beautiful one-handed shots by Royer of Roseville gave his team a 26 to 24 victory over the Lincoln boys. Bill Wyatt scored 15 points for Lincoln.

The Lincoln B's were completely out-classed, and Roseville won by a score of 35 to 15.

Basketball

NEVADA CITY AT LINCOLN, JANUARY 22

With "Old Man Fier" still flying around the air and some of the players sick, the A and B teams were both beaten at the hands of the Nevada Cityites.

Nevada City won the A game by a score of 33 to 16. Pershing Wyatt scored 7 points for Lincoln.

Despite Willie Gannon's 14 points, the Lincoln B's were beaten by the Nevada City B team, 30 to 27.

LINCOLN AT GRANT, JANUARY 27

The two Grant teams, who defeated the Placer teams earlier in the season, defeated the local Blue and Gold cagers in both contests.

The Grant A's won 48 to 11, while the Grant B's won 38 to 13. Wake was outstanding for the Grant A's, while LeBoeuf starred for the Grant B's.

LINCOLN AT GRASS VALLEY, JANUARY 29

The Grass Valley Miners were too big for the local A team and won 29 to 23. The first half told the Lincoln cagers out-paving the Miners and led 12 to 11. But the local defense cramped in the second half, and Grass Valley began to hit the bucket easily. Bud Wyatt scored 12 points for Lincoln.

The Lincoln B's could not get going and were beaten by the Grass Valley lightweights, 37 to 16.

PLACER AT LINCOLN, FEBRUARY 5

The Lincoln cagers gave the Placer coaches something to worry about during both games. The A's held the Placer A's to a 7 to 6 score at half time. But Placer came back in the second half to win 30 to 19.

The Placer B's were likewise given a scare by the Blue and Gold cagers. The locals led 16 to 14 at the first quarter but trailed at halftime, 24 to 18. Fernandez, Placer ace, dropped 23 points through the hoop for the evening and was the most outstanding played on the court. Brown, Gannon, and Venegas played well for Lincoln.

LINCOLN AT ROSEVILLE FEBRUARY 12

The local A team came home with its first league win from the Roseville team, 24 to 23. Bud Wyatt captured scoring honors for Lincoln by scoring 16 points.

The B's looked a lot better than in their previous games but were beaten by the Tiger Bates, 30 to 26. Al Brown led Lincoln at half time 15 to 11, the boys went to pieces during the second half.

GRASS VALLEY AT LINCOLN, FEBRUARY 16

The Grass Valley team proved to be too much for the local A's with its

Basketball

ing star, Wilson, back in the line up. The final score was Grass Valley 12, Lincoln 21.

The B team gave the Grass Valley B's a tough battle for three quarters, but Grass Valley pulled away during the last quarter to win 35 to 26.

GRANT AT LINCOLN, FEBRUARY 19

The Grant A's again proved to be too much for the locals, and won easily 33 to 11. Le Bouef, who was moved up from the B's scored 16 points for Grant.

The Lincoln B's scored their biggest victory of the year by winning from the Grant B's, 25 to 24. This game tossed the Grant team out of a first-place tie with Placer for the B division. The Lincoln B's overcame an 8 point lead at the half to win in the last few seconds. Genboa was high scorer for Lincoln with 13 points to his credit. Brown also starred for Lincoln.

LINCOLN AT NEVADA CITY, FEBRUARY 26

The team played their last league games and came home with a pair of fine victories.

The A's were paced by Bill Wyatt, who scored 23 points. This was a free scoring game, and the locals came out on top by a score of 13 to 10.

The B's were headed by "Sleepy" Neville and Earl Brown, who scored 13 and 10 respectively. The final score was 33 to 20 in favor of Lincoln.

Age Versus Youth

Youth dreams of the future;
 Age dreams of the past.
 The hopes of Youth sail high.
 At middle-age half-mast.

Youth says, "We must live in the present
 And look forward to things yet to come."
 Age says, "We have no future to live for;
 Our lives are nearly done.

Our great joys are all in the past
 There were our sorrows too.
 We love them with all their memories,
 Even dreams that didn't come true."

Youth then sees that it's hopeless
 To keep Age from reliving the past,
 So Youth still plans for the future
 When his dreams will come true at last.

Baseball

The Lincoln High School baseball team has just finished one of its most disastrous seasons, winning only one practice game and not winning any league games.

The Lincoln boys tried hard, but the breaks were against them. The pitching staff, being especially weak this year, could not stop the hitting attack by the other schools. The batting honors were taken by George Wallace with a percentage of .318 closely followed by Harry Ferrero.

Lincoln hopes for a better season next year with a considerable increase in pitching power shown by the improvement of both Korff and Martinez near the end of the season, and the donning of suits by the majority of the boys.

The lineup for this season was as follows: Korff, Martinez, and Bill Wyatt alternating at the pitcher's mound; Wallace, catcher; Ferrero, first base; Mazzoni, second base; Neville, third base; Earl Brown, shortstop; Towne, left field; P. Wyatt, centerfield; Venegas, right field; Lambert and Dougherty, utility.

Tennis Team

The tennis team has just finished a fairly successful season, winning seven of the thirteen matches played and tying one, under the capable coaching of Ralph L. Williams.

Several of the players entered the Sacramento Bee Tournament with the result of a good showing by Kadel and Schuler, who reached the Quarter finals in the Junior boys' division. Obexer reached the semi-finals in the boys' division. Kadel also reached the semi-finals in the C. I. F. singles. The lineup for this year was:

Kadel, Brown, and Schuler alternating at first, second, and third; Obexer, fourth; Gamboa, fifth; Kaufield and Kaffka alternating at sixth

G. A. A. Letter Girls

Now, please don't overlook this picture. It consists of twenty-six loyal girls and true, who went out to win for their classes or else. Result? Every one of them gets a badge of bravery in the form of small blue and gold L's for the sophomores, blue and gold stars for the juniors and large blue and gold L's for the seniors.

Those husky sophomores led in basket and volley ball, while the seniors and juniors still have hopes (as this goes to press) for the baseball championship.

The freshmen worked hard and proved a hard bunch to beat, but experience is a big advantage.

The G. A. A. officers for this year were as follows:

President	Helen Paillex
Secretary	Sibyl Hunter
Treasurer	Frieda Molinario

Tumbling Team

Another year rolls around and our tumbling team skips out on the floor. It is a bigger success than ever this year and consists mostly of freshmen who have worked hard learning to twist themselves into human pretzels and balance several thousand pounds gracefully on their necks.

The tumblers were a big attraction at the annual school carnival in their new costumes of blue and gold. They built pyramids, did flying angels, played leap frog, did the shoulder-throws, and many other stunts for which they are famous.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

If the corkscrew, would be the bottle stopper?

If the water tower, will the sand bar?

If a train were going sixty miles an hour,

Could the grasshopper?—Katydid.

If the bull-rushes, will the cowslip?

If the clothes washes, would the fruit drier?

If the hair clipper, would the razor-stropper?

If the water falls, will the rubber ball?

If the cold cream, would the powder puff?

Will the Bachelor Button the Lady's Slipper?

Flora: "Mr. Williams, George Washington must have had a wonderful memory."

Mr. Williams: "Why so, Flora?"

Flora: "'Cause most everywhere you go you see a monument erected to his memory."

Cliff Kaufield: "Did you get a check from that publisher you've been sending your poems to?"

Elton Sandstad: "Yes, a check in the shape of a card saying, 'Give Us A Rest.'"

"Young Speedo is a live wire, I tell you."

"That probably accounts for his shocking habits."

Laugh Ha-Ha's

Owsald Jorstad: "That dollar you gave me yesterday was a counterfeit. What do you mean by that?"

Bill Merritt: "Well didn't you say to me, 'I want a dollar, and I want it bad'?"

Melvin Radovich: "How far can you trace your ancestry?"

Boyd Davis: "Well, when my grandfather resigned from his position as cashier of a bank they traced him as far as Canada, but he got away."

Mr. Loeffler: "How far have you and your wife got in your plan to purchase a new auto?"

Mr. Williams: "We've got to the point where we don't speak."

Mrs. Paillex: "Stop using such language, Helen."

Helen: "Shakespeare uses it, Mother."

Mrs. Paillex: "Then don't play with him. He's no fit companion for you."

James Ragsdale: "My dad must have been into all sorts of mischief when he was a boy."

Kenneth Bayless: "What makes you think so?"

James: "He knows exactly what questions to ask me when he wants to find out what I've been doing."

Miss Somerville: "What is it that comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb?"

Richard Clark: "It's father when he brings home his wages."

Ed Wyatt was describing a fish he had caught. He stretched his arms to full length and said: "It was that long, boys. I never saw such a fish."

Pershing Wyatt: "No, I don't believe you ever did."

A San Francisco man phoned to a theatre and asked: "Can you reserve me a box for two?"

A puzzled answer came back from the other end of the line: "We don't have boxes for two."

"Isn't this the theatre?" he crossly asked.

"Why, no," responded the puzzled one, "You are talking to an undertaker."

CLASS WILL

Now that the day of our graduation is approaching, we the graduating class of 1937, wish to leave a part of our vast knowledge to the young sinners we leave behind. We hereby leave the following will and testament.

As a class we leave our ability to lead and not to be led to the student body.

We, the graduating class of 1937, leave to the faculty our fondest memories and our everlasting smiles.

To the class of '38 we bequeath our superiority over other classes. (You need it, Juniors. Take it to heart.)

To the class of '39 we bequeath our success with social affairs.

To the class of '40 we bequeath our stubs of pencils, wads of gum, scraps of paper, any anything else we might leave behind.

As individuals:

I, Marion Abbick, leave my handsome Romeo to Kathryn Shane. (Take good care of him, Katy.)

I, Chris Andressen, my bigness to Johnny Gouvea, and my position as student body president to anyone capable of filling it.

I, Virginia Borba, my freckles to Evelyn Short, and my height to "Weasel".

I, Earl Brown, my acting ability to Bob May's. (Don't lay 'em flat, Bob) and my position as captain of the B team to Willie Gamboa.

I, Wilmot Brown, my lazy manner to "Sleepy" Neville, and my wicked tennis racket to Ralph Kaffka.

I, Marion Bunn, my good sportsmanship to Annie Oleari. (Don't over do it in gym, Annie.)

I, Myrtle Bickford, my everlasting conversation to Fae Andressen.

I, Bill Dawson, my pleasing nature to Robert Howcroft, and my blushing smile to John Korff.

I, Dorothy Deebas, my tall stature to Maxine Hogue, and my dancing eyes to Gladys Korthoff.

I, Zula Dougherty, my yodeling to Eoyd Davis, and my "easy-to-get-along-with manner" to Lydia Santini.

I, Tony Derobertis, my kinky hair to Richard Clark.

I, Clyde Dunlap, my nickname "Louie the Drapper" to Harry Lee.

I, Harry Ferrero, my job as sports reporter to Elton Sandstad, and my good nature to Kenneth Bayless.

I, John Haenny, my silly remarks to Bob Coe.

I, George Hoff, my blue eyes to Jack Johnson, and my Roseville dates to Mike Dougherty.

I, Ethel Hansen, my shyness around teachers to Jane Grey.

I, Sibyl Hunter, my petite figure to Gladys Welch, and my sweet nature to Lucille Johnson.

Class Will

I, Frank Iharramendy, my strange actions to Eugene Flowers, and my deep voice to George Twomey.

I, Oswald Jorstad, my wavy hair to "Tiny" Radovich, and my swell physique to Charles McCrath.

I, Toshie Miyata, my lady-like ways to Gladys Korthoff.

I, Mineo Miyata, my neat hand-writing to any scribbler.

I, John Markell, my way with the history teacher to Gregory Katseles.

I, Clyde Mazzoni, my "cookie duster" to Wesley Freeman.

I, Bill Merritt, my ability to give speeches to Curtis Hansen.

I, Charles Millar, my way with the women to Esam Asazawa and my fancy dancing to George Wallace.

I, Dora Moore, my mysterious disappearing acts to Fern Johnston.

I, Beatrice Mancebo, my quiet manner to Marie Bunn.

I, Flora Mancebo, my "chatter box" to Shirley Brown, and my knowledge to Nadene Beske.

I, Frieda Monnario, my wonderful voice to Betty Jo, and my dancing ability to Margaret Boardman.

I, Helen Paillex, my way of being unconsciously adorable to Dorene Neville, and my tennis playing to Saiko Asazawa.

I, Marvin Shackelford, my smartness to Vern Lambert.

I, Juanita Shinn, my winning personality to Betty De Witt, and my striking brown eyes to Julia Pontes (maybe she can use two pair.)

I, Frank Schaler, my Audrey to Jack Carmen, and my position as senior class president to Clifford Kaufield.

I, Leslie Sorenson, my nick-name "nipple-bottle" to Alvin Menchmella.

I, Angelina Silva, my gift of gab to Evelyn Ridinger.

I, Ainsley Towle, my slovenly speech to Mrs. Leavell, the English teacher.

I, Sally Venegas, my here 'n there column to any snooper who may take English IV next year.

I, Violet Whaley, my trapeze stunts to Laurena Crook.

I, Pershing Wyatt, my position as El Eco manager to anyone who likes hard work or responsibility, and my attractive looks to Jack Niles.

I, Bill Wyatt, my position as basketball captain of the A team to Glen Hellewell and my whispering voice to Wendell Hunter.

I, Eulogio Nevarez, will my ability as a fruit picker to Melvin Radovich.

On this the third day of May, 1937, we here-by affix our signatures:

HOPE ANDRESSEN

SENIOR PROPHECY

After many tedious hours of deep concentration the Gypsy fortune teller predicts what we, the senior class of 1937, will be doing ten years hence.

Marion Abbick is working as usher for Moore's Theatre in the city of Lincoln. Marion and her husband own half interest in the theatre.

Chris Andressen, after ten years of waiting, has finally succeeded in filling Mr. Brown's shoes. He teaches science at the Lincoln Union High School.

Virginia Borba is the main floorlady in the Lincoln Cannery.

Earl Brown is in the U. S. Navy. He's broken Barnacle Bill's record already. (He has two gals in every port instead of one.)

Wilmot Brown is known as the world's champion tennis player. He's climbing the ladder to success ever since he graduated from dear old Lincoln Hi. He has just won the championship from Fred Perry.

Marion Bunn is working on Teckla Nelson's pig ranch. She is foreman over the whole "shebang."

Myrtle Bickford is chief-cook and bottle-washer for the "Greasy Spoon Restaurant."

Bill Dawson has just completed a masterpiece which has won him more fame than Leonardo da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" Bill has been working faithfully for five years, and at last he has been recognized.

Dorothy Dobbas is a nurse at the "Lie Down" Hospital. This hospital is only for patients with measles.

Zula Dougherty is up "thar" on top of Gouge Eye Peak yodeling to some cattle rustler down in "Cow Track Canyon." She rides to town twice a month on her ornery old mule.

Clyde Dunlap is still on the trail. He has just recently hitched his wagon to a star, and he is at present in Hollywood finding her.

Tony Derobertis is a traveling salesman for the Pull and Stretch Co. Tony goes from house to house selling women's garters.

Harry Ferrero is serving a ten year term in Sing Sing for butchering music. However, he plays his "squeeze box" to the cold walls of the cell.

John Haenny is boarding at Josh's Sanitarium. John just recently graduated from Napa with high honors.

George Hoff is fly catcher for the Bugs and Bees' Association near Bugville, Arkansas. It is reported that George walks in his sleep, and he catches most of the flies in this way.

Ethel Hansen has been appointed ambassador to Ethiopia where she will make her home with her husband, Hi Jub Roby.

Sibyl Hanter is the private secretary for the President of the United States. It is said that she has been keeping company with the president's son right along.

Senior Prophecy

Frank Iharramendy peddles milk in a wheel-barrow for a living in the city of Los Angeles.

Oswald Jorstad is in Japan teaching Japanese children how to fly kites. Oswald has taken up the Japanese customs, and now he eats rice three times a day and uses chop-sticks too.

Toshie Miyata runs a ferry boat across the Auburn Ravine. Toshie doesn't have more than ten passengers a day.

Mineo Miyata is raising peacocks for their lovely tail feathers, to be used in women's hats. Believe it or not, Mineo is making a profit.

John Markell is making cars that are giving Henry Ford some stiff competition. The name of the cars he makes is "Slow Creepers."

Clyde Mazzoni is slinging spaghetti in "Tony's Restaurant" in Little Italy.

Bill Merritt has taken Joe E. Brown's place on the silver screen. Bill is now working on a picture called "Wow" with Martha Raye.

Charles Minar runs a tap dancing school. Even Fred Astaire is taking lessons from him. (He also has some beautiful girls. They flock in by the dozens.)

Dora Moore plays her fiddle in Wayne King's Orchestra. (Nimble fingers brings success, huh, Dora?)

Beatrice Mancebo is a seamstress for "Roberta's Gowns". Beatrice creates the latest designs for the movie stars.

Flora Mancebo is still at the University of California getting higher and higher degrees and admiring some handsome history professor. (Or maybe she can't leave dear old Alma Mater.)

Frieda Molinario is a famous operatic star. At present she is in New York doing the latest production of "Carmen". When her work is through there, she intends to tour Europe where she will study music under Russianoff.

Eulogio Nevarez does the tango in the "Toronado" Cafe at Sheridan.

Helen Paillex is now enroute to the North Pole, from which point she will study the moon. Helen has gone on several other scientific expeditions.

Marvin Shackelford is traveling with a side show over the country. Marvin is the bearded lady in the circus, and we hear he makes a good one.

Juanita Shinn is a beauty operator in the "Slick 'em Down Beauty Salon". She specializes in curing pigs' tails. (By the way, she has regular customers from Nelson's pig farm.)

Frank Schuler is taking "Fatty" Arbuckle's place as the world's fattest man.

Leslie Sorenson hops over to the Lincoln High School daily where he is assistant janitor.

Ainsley Towle is trucking peaches for the Lincoln Packing Company.

Angelina Silva is still noted for her daily gossip column in the "Blabtown Messenger."

Sally Venegas is married to Don Lambert and taking care of ten or twelve children. (Maybe we didn't count straight.)

Violet Whaley is still teaching Flora to skate. (Violet specializes in teaching boys.)

Pershing Wyatt is the iron man for the Cardinals. He has a batting average of .000.

Bill Wyatt is still driving his old Ford through the dingy streets of Lincoln.

Styles

Why do people all the while
Try to change this country's style?
First it's this and then it's that,
One time a dress next time a hat.
Even music changes style
With every spin of the radio dial.

We turn to station KPO
And hear the waltz time sweet and low,
Then we turn to KYA
To hear the swing band of the day.
At last we come to KNX
And wonder what it will be next.

A squeak and a bare,
A shout fills the air,
And then we find it's the overtures
To Major Bowes and his amateurs,
And after we have had our fun,
We wonder what these styles have done.

Angelina E. Chiostri, '40

To Our Advertisers

We wish to take this opportunity to extend our sincerest thanks to the advertisers, who through their kind patronage have made the publication of this, our twenty-seventh annual, possible.
